Designed for Quick Detach of Your Optic

Mounting an optic always presents rifle owners with a different set of challenges. If an optic isn't needed or just gets in the way, getting it off can take time and tools. And if it's needed again, then re-mounting the optic usually means re-zeroing it. However, the Scalarworks LEAP Magnifier Mount eliminates both issues! Built to work with Aimpoint's line of tube magnifiers, the Scalarworks LEAP Magnifier Mount is built with the company's trademarked Quantum Quick-Detach mechanism. This design is impervious to recoil and provides exactly the right amount of torque needed to secure an optic to a rifle. The benefit of the design is users can remove the mount in less than 3 seconds without tools. Black-oxide finish Fits Aimpoint 3X-C, 3XMag, 3XMag-1, 6XMag-1 and other 30mm tube magnifiers Weight: 2.7 to 2.79 ounces Made in the USA The Scalarworks LEAP Magnifier Mount is sized to fit all 30mm tubes and features a symmetrical flip mechanism that allows the user to move magnifiers to the left or right side of the rifle. A telescoping clamp allows for repeatable zero with every installation.
